BIOGRAPHY (DE)

Sofie Fatouretchi ist Musikerin und Künstlerin, in Kalifornien geboren und von österreichisch- und iranischer Herkunft. Nach ihrer Tätigkeit bei Boiler Room und Los Angeles-Plattenlabel Stones Throw Records, auf dem 2017 die 2LP Compilation, Sofie's SOS Tape von ihr auch veröffentlicht wurde, zog sie zurück nach Wien wo sie Lehramt in Philosophie, Psychologie und Englisch studiert sowie Bildende Kunst -- Malerei an der Universität für angewandte Kunst.

Sie spielt Geige in der Wiener Akademischen Philharmonie, arbeitet als Musikerin, mit Kompositionsaufträge für Film, Werbung und Fernsehen, und als DJ, mit ihren eigenen Radiosendungen, die auf Londoner Station NTS sowie auf FM4 zu finden sind. Ihr selbstproduziertes Debutalbum, Cult Survivor, erschien Juli 2020 auf dem amerikanischen Label Stones Throw Records. Ihr zweites Album, Harlequin, wird auch dort September 2022 veröffentlicht.

BIOGRAPHY (EN)

Sofie Fatouretchi is an artist and musician, born in California to Austrian and Iranian parents. She spent her teenage years in Vienna studying classical violin and viola at the Konservatorium, and after a move to Los Angeles she worked at Stones Throw Records, releasing a 2LP compilation entitled Sofie's SOS Tape, and became a core member of the original Boiler Room team, a move that saw her taking on creative direction in London and New York.

As of 2017 she resides in Vienna, where she studies painting under Henning Bohl at the University of Applied Arts, as well as pursues a teaching degree in Philosophy, Psychology and English. She works as a musician, with compositions including soundtracks for film, TV, and advertisements. She plays violin in the Wiener Akademische Philharmonie, and works as a DJ, with her own radio shows on London's NTS and Austria's FM4. Her debut, self-produced solo album, Cult Survivor, appeared in July 2020 on Stones Throw Records. Her second album, Harlequin, will be released on the label in September 2022.
